Escape the Wolf Launches Retail Partnerships with CIA
Headquarters and International Spy Museum Retail Stores Escape the Wolf Travel Security Book Now Available for Purchase in the Nation's Most Fabled Spy Shops

Feb. 14, 2012 (Virginia Beach, VA) – Escape the Wolf has launched retail partnerships with the two most famous spy gift shops in the country. The company's flagship book, Escape the Wolf – Personal Security Handbook for the Traveling Professional, is now available for sale in the gift shops of the CIA Headquarters in Langley, VA, and International Spy Museum in Washington, D.C.

“Escape the Wolf is pleased to share our company's expertise on how to gain the edge on global travel threats with visitors to these two renown centers for tradecraft,” Clinton Emerson, chief executive officer of Virginia Beach-based Escape the Wolf, said.

Escape the Wolf the book devotes chapters to surveillance, surveillance detection and the art of escape, all areas of critical importance in the world of spying, whether for world dominance or corporate gain.

The CIA gift shop is accessible only to invited visitors at CIA Headquarters. The memorabilia within the headquarters has been called the “best museum you never saw” because its location in CIA Headquarters makes it off limits to the public. The headquarters is filled with artifacts of the agency's history and its World War II predecessor, the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

The International Spy Museum features the largest permanent collection of international spy-related artifacts on public display. The International Spy Museum is the only public museum in the United States solely dedicated to espionage and the only one in the world to provide a global perspective on the spying profession. Located at 800 F Street, NW in Washington, D.C. in the historic Penn Quarter, the museum features a 5,000-square-foot store. The store has a diverse selection of merchandise that mirrors the museum's presentation of tradecraft and the history of espionage as well as popular interpretations of the profession.

Escape the Wolf provides preemptive, holistic travel risk mitigation solutions for global companies and government agencies. The company's system of Total AwarenessSM prepares the international professional traveler to identify, avoid and minimize the wide range of THREATs[®] or wolves that exist worldwide. Escape the Wolf supports travelers with training seminars, executive consultations, eLearning, technology, and innovative travel products, including its Zero TraceTM digital device protection product line. www.escapethewolf.com
